The Acworth News and Farmer of this week says! Mrs. Elizabeth Baker living within three in lies of Acworth, remarked that Vanderbilt's fortune could not bus from her what six bottles of Swit's Specifio has done for her. Her statement is as follow: For thirty-one years I have suffered almost death from that horrible disease scrofula. For years I was unable to do anything in keeping up my domesti, a dairs, Lest October I was induced to try Swift's Specific, and used two bottles, and was 50 much benefited by it that I purchased four more from Messrs. Northout & Johnson, which has almost entirely relieved me. I feel like a new person, and can do all my own housework. Before I took the S. S. Smy lifs was a burden, as my entire person was covered with sores, and in this miserable condition I did not care to live. I had tried every known remedy, and my case was generally regarded as incurable. I had ben treated by the best physicians to no avail. I most heartily recommend Swift's Specific to the efflicted.

Messrs, Northeatt * Johnson, merchants at Acworth, say: We know Mrs Elizabeth
Baker personally; we are familiar with her case.
She is highly esteemed in this community.

Rheumatism Twenty Years. Hheumatism Twenty Years.
I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for twenty years, at times with almost intolerable pain. I had the best medical treatment, and took all sorts of remedies, but without relief.
Being reduced almost to a skeleton, and not being able to walk even with cratches. I was induced to try Swift's Specific, and it acted alke a charm, and I am to say rultely relieved Have thrown away my crutches, and am in a scolleut health. I believe Swift's Specific will cure the worst case of rheumatism.

Wetunfra, Ala, September 23, 1884.—About ix years ago I became afflicted with a very disagreeable skin disease, with large, dry screand many crusted pimples on my face, hands and shoulder. The scree on my shoulder eat out a hole nearly an inch deep, and the cancerous appearance of one of the scree near my eye alarmed me very much. I tried all kinds of treatment, but found nothing that seemed to affect the disease. I finally decided to try 8.8.8 on advice of a physician, and in a short time the scabs dropped from the screes and left my skin smooth and well. I consider 8.8.8. A $50,000 Suit Against a Priest. Dennis O'Donovan, whose trouble with the Catholic church, while priest at Brownsthe Catholic church, while priest at Brownsburg, Hendricks county, received considerable attention from the press at the time, and whose subsequent removal from the charge, a few years ago, provoked him to bring suft against the bishop, is again figuring in the local courts. This time he sues the Rev. Herman Alerding for $50,000 damages for it bel, alleging that the defendant published a book, sometime ago, purporting to be a history of the Catholic church of the Vincennes diocese, in which the follow-

This statement the plaintiff de-nounces as false and libelous, because it conveys the idea that he had charge of the congregation at Brownsburg in opposition to the authority of the bishop. O'Donovan is not now in the ministry.

Water Contamination and Disease. A few days ago it was said that a sort of epidenic of typhoid fever had broken out in Waynetown in one or more of the schools, and the effect had been a temporary extinc tion of the schools. The origin of the disease was the use of the water of a well fouled by the surface filth that had soaked into it. A sample of the water was sent to Dr. Chambers here for analysis, but what character of contamination scientific inves-tigation has disclosed is not reported yet. It tigation has disclosed is not reported yet. It is becoming more evident constantly that foul water is, and has been, one of the most potent and pervading of all the morbific influences that assail civilized communities, and in cities, at least, the mischief lies mainly in wells and sewage. Water and air, the two things most easily obtained in perfect purity, are the two things most nearly affecting the general health, that are most frequently impure. Sewage gas crawls invisibly about through a fine residence and a child dies of diphtheria, a servant of typhoid child dies of diphtheria, a servant of typhoid fever, lung troubles come upon one, and liver disorders on another. Wells are containmated by deposits of excrementious matter near enough to allow its soaking from surface water to leak in slowly and imper-ceptibly, and fevers come that are charged to malaria sometimes and sometimes to careless habits or bad food. No taste discerns the poisso, but the springs of life test it, and their section is disordered. The contamination must be hideously gross when it makes is discretered. The contamination must be hideously gross when it makes well water taste unpleasantly. Miscrief is apt to end when such an extremity of foulmess has been reached. The water is us own warning then, and only a fool or a mandrary with this would use it. The evil less to the less degree of contamination which can not be detected by the paints, but which is continued and proported are districted.

The Days of Old Lang Syne, when the River was a Field for Winter Sport The river is solidly frozen over, in patche all along its course about the city, and several places have been put in competition with the rinks by adventurous boys. In late years the river has not often been frozen completely or solidly enough to make it safe or pleasant skating, and it is not so now, though approaching it more nearly than usual. But those with memories covering forty years or more can recall many a skatfrolic on the old half-sewer, half-puddle stream, when it was full four hundred feet wide at Eaglesfield's saw mill, where the paper mill is now, and the "old snag" was the "old swimmin' hole" of half the town, including all the "old seminary boys." It was a pleasant stream then. The water was clear and pure, the west bank low and densely wooded, the east high and grassy, and scal loped into deep recesses here and there by the torrents that poured down natural gullies through the precipitous bluff. A hard freeze would then make an ice field as slick as glass, almost black over the deep water, a half mile long below the bridge bg water, a har line long below the britise by a hundred yards wide, and, so hard that a skate stroke would ring upon it like a held. The bald headed reporter has seen a hundred skaters there at once, each one with more room than all the rinks in the city together. Sometimes, the circular ingether. Sometimes the skating field would extend up to the mouth of Fall creek. would extend up to the mount of rancerees, or higher and down to the "old ford," and a fellow who felt disposed to show his paces could make a mile run right along as straight as the course of the river would let him. Noted skaters like Henry Cox could make the witch has seed of a figurator beat like. it with the speed of a "quarter hoss," in long swinging strokes that would cover a rink floor in two of them. It was after sight than any fashionable dance to see twenty good skaters cutting a cicele of fifty feet in diameter at once. The speciator's head would grow days. If the circumstances head would grow dizzy, if the skaters' didn't, watching the swift whirl that made twenty men present an optical illusion of a continuous ring like the rim of a buge horizontal wheelin motion. Well, the lift ion was hardly so complete as that, but it approached it prosched it.

When the river was not in good skating condition the main substitute, before the carai was completed, was the "grave yar! pond," now and for twenty years as completely obliterated as the canal south of pletely obliterated as the causal south of Market street. It was part of a biyou, so far below the general level, however, that it was hever emptited when the floot that filled the other peris went down. It was well populated by frozs, turtles and must rais, and after a freehet an abundance of 'red eyes' and sun fish. It was two bundred yards or more long by a hundred wide, and when fir zen at all was always smooth and solid, which was not always the case with when frizen at all was always smooth and solid, which was not always the case with the river, and being sheltered by the high bank on the north, and by a dense growth of sycsmores eyery where else, it was a better skating place than the river, usually. The canal, however, soon superseded both river and pond, and for thirty years the latter has not been used at all, and for a longer time the former has been but little used. Staters have gone to the "wide cu!" as boatmen go now. The glory of the river boaimen go now. The glory of the river has gone with its beauty, and it is now as ugly as it is useless, except as a sewer, that is anywhere near the city. War's dread alarms carry terror to the hearts of peace-loving citizens, but it is safe to say that the number of lives annually sacri-ficed to liver complaint, in its various forms greatly exceed those of the most destruct ve-battles. George L. Martinez, of Nicaragua, writes: "During my last visit to New York I was presented with half a dozen bottles of Mishler's Herb Bitters, and I obserfully testify say that the number of lives annually sacri that less than two bottles cured me of liver

It is possible that the critic may be a little off in its information. In a Sunday school address delivered by the late Cavin Flatcher on the 4th of July, 1848, he stated that the first sermon ever preached on the present site of Indianapolis was delivered by Rev. Rezin Hammond under the shade of a large black walnut tree on the south side—of Washington street, opposite the present site of the state house. To the Editor of The Jadianapolis News: I wonder if The News has got sand enough to suggest to the members of the coming legislature what it is in exceeding bad taste to bring members of their families to secure positions with the legislature. Members bring their sons and get places for them when those places ought to be distributed. It ought to be beneath the dignity of a member to ask such a thing. It looks little. If one has to fluence he ought to secure a position for his to their house unsuccessful. I am no ac-place, while some who deserved returned to their homes unsuccessful. I am no ac-plicant, have not been, won't be. Have no sors to give places to, no friends that were unsuccessful and are sore, but I believe in men not making hogs of then selves.

To the Editor of The Indianapolis News:
Wouldn't it be well to suggest to the en wouldn't to be well to suggest to the enterorising dentists of your city that a tooth-suffering public is waiting and "aching" for them to introduce the new ar asthetic?
